

Data warehouse approach to statistical data management and the prospect of its use for scanner data

The presentation explains how a software (INSIDE: INtegrated Statistical Datawarehouse Environment) developed in the context of Structural Business Statistics, could be used for the aims of scanner data project carried out by Istat. In particular the possible application to map EAN codes is briefly illustrated.

Istat – Laureti Palma